(if you do not have a yahoo email account)

Go to www.flickr.com

The screenshot shows the Flickr homepage. On the left is a large photo of a woman in a red dress. To its right is a 'Create Your Account' button with the text 'Only takes a moment with your Yahoo! ID'. Below this is the text 'Share your photos. Watch the world.' and a search bar. At the bottom are four icons with labels: 'Share & stay in touch', 'Upload & organize', 'Crop, fix, edit', and 'Explore...'. A purple arrow points from the 'Create Your Account' button to the text above it.

The screenshot shows the Flickr sign-in page. It has the Flickr logo and 'a YAHOO! company' text. Below is the heading 'Love fun? Use Flickr.' followed by three bullet points. A section for 'Hey Old Skool members!' is also present. On the right is a 'Sign in to Yahoo!' form with fields for 'Yahoo! ID:' and 'Password:'. There is a 'Keep me signed in' checkbox and a 'Sign In' button. At the bottom is a 'Don't have a Yahoo! ID?' section with a 'Sign Up' link. A purple arrow points from the 'Sign Up' link to the text on the right.

Why am I being asked for my password?

- To protect your account, you need to confirm your password periodically.

Some Yahoo! services, such as Yahoo! Mail and Yahoo! Address Book, require you to periodically enter your password even though you are already signed in. We do this to protect your personal information.

You can adjust the length of time before password prompting--up to two weeks--by visiting Account Info and clicking on the Edit link for Member Information. (more)

For your security, we will always prompt you for your password when accessing sensitive personal information, like Account Info.

- Only one account can be signed in at a time.
